Birthday fun a blast from the past

Stephen Taylor
steve@mpowe.com.au

SOMERVILLE Rise Primary School pupils celebrated their school’s 21st birthday with music from the school band, visits from past pupils and teachers and the digging up of a 1995 time capsule which was opened and the contents displayed around the school.

Another highlight was a Footy-a-thon in which pupils dressed in their favorite football colours and paraded around the basketball courts to their team’s theme song. This was followed by a fun walk-a-thon with money raised going towards information and communications technology equipment.

The Tree of Knowledge mural was a big hit with families who were able to put their handprints on the leaves to symbolise family.

Tyaah/Somerville Rotary Club members provided a sausage sizzle for lunch.

Somerville Rise Primary School is proud of its achievements in creating a warm, harmonious and caring learning environment where pupils feel secure, happy and are highly motivated to learn.

Tree of Knowledge: Pupils Peasley, Ava, Ella, Collie, Aysha and Art & Wellbeing teacher Fiona Martin demonstrate their talents on the wall mural. Colourful exhibit: Assistant principal Mark Downward admires quilts unearthed from the school’s time capsule. Tuned out: Tyaah Love belts out the vocals alongside fellow band members Noah Nölken, Zane Shreeves and Bradley Battutuli during the school’s 21st birthday celebrations. Pictures: Tonia